I am very pleased to announce the promotion of Jennifer Vacchio from assistant editor to associate editor.

In the short year that Jen has been at Millimeter she has proven herself to be, not only a smart, hard working employee, but also a very sharp writer with good instincts. Jen continues to contribute good ideas at editorial meetings, and has, in short, become a very valued member of the Millimeter team.

Please help me in congratulating Jennifer on, hopefully, the first of many promotions at Millimeter.
